Zoom Webinar • Friday, Aug. 28 • Noon CST
Join us for this event to commemorate the anniversary of the 1963 March on Washington, during which Martin Luther King Jr. gave his famous “I Have a Dream” speech.

Guest Speaker: Walter Earl Fluker
Dean’s Professor of Spirituality, Ethics and Leadership
Emory University’s Candler School of Theology

Martin Luther King, Jr. Professor Emeritus of Ethical Leadership
Boston University’s School of Theology

An expert in the theory and practice of ethical leadership, Fluker will reflect on the role of long memory in creating sites of mourning and prophetic speech and action in contested democratic spaces. He also will examine the emergence of new activist leaders and the existential and ethical issues at stake in this moment.

Following the lecture, Anthony Pinn, the Agnes Cullen Arnold Professor of Humanities, professor of religion, and director of the Center for African and African American Studies, will moderate a Q&A.

This online event is open to the Rice community and the public.

Sponsored by the Center for African and African American Studies, a collaboration between the School of Humanities and the School of Social Sciences.
